National SDG Report (VNR) 2025: Addressing the Concerns of LNOB Communities Dhaka: 20 March 2025

1. Why is this issue important?

- Gender equality is not only a fundamental human right but also a necessary foundation for a peaceful sustainable world.
  - Despite women and girls representing half of the population, inequality continues to persist everywhere.
- No development can truly be long-lasting or sustainable if half of the population is left behind.

3. Progress

Gender equality and empowerment of women >Legal framework

- In January 2023, as per the High Court Division's verdict, a mother's name would be taken into account as a guardian on all educational documents.
- In November 2022, the 'Evidence Act' was amended, resulting in the repeal of Section 155(4) and amendment to Section 146.
- In 2020, the government amended the "Women and Children Repression Prevention Act 2000 (WCRPA)", and added an additional provision (section 32A) that requires DNA testing in all offences.

3. Progress

Gender equality and empowerment of women

>Economic and Political Empowerment:

- In 2024, 21% of members in parliament were women, and one-third of seats are reserved for women in all tiers of local government.
- Bangladesh has been preparing a gender budget since 2009.
  - Initially covering only four ministries, it has now expanded to 44 ministries.
  - In FY 2019-20, the gender budget accounted for 30.82% of total budget and 5.5% of GDP.
  - By FY 2024-25, the gender budget increased to 34.11% of the total budget, though its share of GDP slightly decreased to 4.86%.
- In 2023, female labor force participation rate in Bangladesh was around 43.7%
- In 2022, 68% of women owned a mobile phone up from 60% in 2017-18.

3. Progress

- The number of female migrant workers increased from 21,934 in 2020 to 54,696 in 2024 (Source: BMET).
- Young women from the student movement are expressing interest in participating in the political process.

Education

- Primary Education Enrollment (Female): 61.35% (2024) up from 51% (2023)
- Secondary level (Female): 55% (2024) up from 51.83% (2023) (Source: DPE, Government of Bangladesh).
- University Level (Female): 37% (2024) down from 47% (2023) (Source: Prothom Alo, March 2024)

≻Health

- Maternal Mortality Ratio (MMR) declined from 163 in 2020 to 136 in 2023 (Source: SVRS 2023; 2024).
- In 2023, approximately 40% of pregnant women received antenatal care (Source: WHO)

4.Challenges

>Legal framework

- Existing personal laws governing marriage, divorce, inheritance, child custody and adoption remain discriminatory against women of all religions.
  - These laws perpetuate gender inequality, discrimination and violence against women and girls.
- There are no visible initiatives to enact a Uniform Family Code (UFC).
- The Bangladesh labor Act 2006 (amended in 2018) still does not fully align with ILO standards in several areas.
  - Gender pay gap continues to widen.
- There is a lack of proper implementation of existing laws.
- There is a lack of inheritance rights to property and resources.

4.Challenges

>Underrepresentation of women in political processes:

- There is a lack of full and effective participation of women in reserved seats in Parliament.
- The environment within political parties is not women-friendly.
- No effective initiatives have been observed from political parties to fulfil Representation of the People Order (RPO).

>Others:

- Gender-based violence is on the rise.
- Child marriage rate remains alarmingly high at 51.40%, according to reports by BBS and UNICEF.
- Women's contribution to the agriculture sector remain largely invisible due to not being the landowners.

4.Challenges > Others

- There is a lack of gender-disaggregated remittance reports.
- Overall, gender-disaggregated data is still lacking.
- There is no recognition or valuation of unpaid household and care work performed by women.
- There are still significant gender gaps in access to services and support for all marginalised women, including indigenous women, women with disabilities, Dalit women, tea garden workers and elderly women among others.
- Transgender women face various types of abuse and discrimination.
- Hate speech against women is increasing at all levels of society.
- There is a patriarchal mindset that continues to persist.
- Religious extremism and fundamentalism further exacerbates gender issues.

5.Recommendations

>Legal framework

- Ensure proper implementation of existing laws.
- Ensure equal inheritance rights for all citizens, irrespective of religion, race, cast, and sex.
- Introduce the Uniform Family Code (UFC) to uphold gender equality in matters of marriage, divorce, inheritance and child custody.
- Implement effective initiatives to increase gender sensitivity across law enforcing agencies, the judiciary and the media.
- Repeal the special provision in the Child Marriage Restraint Act 2017 and ensure its implementation.
- Enact a separate law to prevent sexual violence against women and girls in line with the verdict of the High Court Division.
- Update the Domestic Violence (Prevention and Protection) Act 2010 and ensure its wide circulation and awareness.

5.Recommendations

>Economic and Political Empowerment:

- Continue and effectively prepare the gender-responsive budget as well as ensure its monitoring.
- Amend the 17th Amendment of the Constitution to include a provision to reserve at least one-third parliamentary seats for women and introduce direct elections for those seats.
- Recognise and value women's contribution to domestic work and care work.
  - Measures should be taken to incorporate economic value of women's unpaid work into the GDP.
  - Redistribute gender role and responsibilities related to unpaid domestic and care work.
- Political parties should follow the provision of RPO by the Election Commission and ensure that at least 33% of leadership positions at all levels are occupied by women.
- Strictly monitor the implementation of fair wages for women RMG workers, and ensure they meet the minimum standard of livelihoods.

5.Recommendations

>Others :

- Ensure the full ratification of UN Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW).
- Effectively address social barriers that hinder gender equality.
- Strengthen institutional mechanisms, such as the Ministry of Women and Children Affairs (MOWCA) and other related institutions, by providing adequate financial and logistic support.
- Strengthen government and non-government (GO-NGO) collaboration.
